DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to Applicant's communication of 10/24/2006. The restriction requirement has been reviewed and is made final.

Important Remarks

A restriction requirement appears below. However, the Examiner wishes to emphasize that a single linking claim, claim 15, if amended to be allowable, would render the full Application allowable, since all of the claims depend therefrom. The Examiner is certainly amenable to discussing possible amendments to claim 15.

As presently worded, claim 15 would be rejectable with the following two pieces of art:

- (a) Component tapes are known to have bar codes directly on them (Bergstrom, US 6,631,870, column 2, lines 5-6, column 4, lines 8-10)
- (b) Component tapes can be spliced directly to one another (Miller et al., US 6,631,868)

If tapes are directly spliced together as per (b) then a connecting member is simply another tape. As (a) shows, and as the Applicant's own background concedes, it is known to have codes on connecting tapes.

Possible amendments could aim to overcome this interpretation of claim 15. If claim 15 is made allowable, the Examiner may consider reinstating claim 38 as well.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 15-18, 27, 37 drawn to a component tape connecting member having an information medium portion, and a method getting information from this member, classified in class 235, subclass 376.
- II. Claims 28-34, drawn to a component supplying system and device, classified in class 242, subclass 615.
- III. Claims 35-36, drawn to a component mounting system, classified in class 242, subclass 615.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because if the code were else, such as on the component tape itself, the supplying system should still be able to find it. The subcombination has separate utility such as for manual linking of component tapes.

Inventions III and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because if the code were else, such as on the component tape itself, the supplying system should still be able to find it. The subcombination has separate utility such as for manual mounting of component tapes.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.
